Described as "A fascinating maritime history of the world's ships calling at the lonely island home of descendants of the 'Mutiny on the Bounty' mutineers," Pitcairn—Port of Call consists of a listing of every known ship that called at the island, starting in 1790 and ending in 1990. The sections are divided by dates. The intervals vary, although most encompass ten-year increments. The largest sections are those dealing with the early years, 1790-1849 and 1850--1879. Aside from a short six-page introduction, the book is entirely made up of ship landings. Some of the entries are embellished with historical information taken from island or ships' logs. This is a book that will delight the hearts of sailors and lovers of minutiae, and all Bounty enthusiasts.

The basic aim of MSI is to promote research in the Marquesas in all disciplines. MSI is providing volunteers for an archaeological project on Nuku Hiva in June. Founder of MSI, David Addison, is also putting together a multi-disciplinary study of the leeward side of Nuku Hiva. Future plans involve a small journal and online research resources.
